You price a job at 2pm Monday, the client accepts and signs it off immediately on the screen of your tablet, you book the job for your “contractor”, they receive a detailed scope of works with photo’s, the materials are ordered with your supplier, and the customer knows with certainty the job will be started at 8am Wednesday. It’s now 2:10pm and you are on your way to price the next job.

You Have Made it to the 4th Key to Tradie Business Success

But Easily the Most Critical

Contracting? Engaging Contractors?

Know the Rules?

Know the Cost of Getting it Wrong?

$150 is all it costs to get it right.

This is such a big issue for the industry we are almost giving our advice away. You work hard every day, don't let Fairwork, the ATO, or Workcover screw you.

The MOST frustrating thing about my job is hearing from my tradie clients, “My mate told me all I had to do was get an ABN.” Unfortunately this discussion usually happens when Fairwork or the Tax Office have commenced audit proceedings against them.

To be brutally honest, BBQ talk is almost always bullshit! Ring me and I will tell you the straight up truth about the law. Don't let your number come up next for an audit – Get the right advice right now and save thousands later.

Marketing advice from an accountant?

Isn't that like tax advice from the apprentice?

Quite possibly. But we don't actually give marketing advice.

It is our 6th step in your success program because once the 5 steps above are completed and implemented you will want to get that advice from somebody to continue to grow your business.

It just so happens we know a couple of people who specialise in providing great advice at a great price to our clients so we are happy to pass the recommendation on to you.
